Theater Party to Be Climax of Season at Southampton

Special Performance of 'Chauve-Souris' This Evening in Garden Promises to Attract a Large and Brilliant Audience at Seaside Resort.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., Sept. 2.
UCH that was agreeable and a few drawbacks of weather marked the waning season during the last week. Even the three days of rain that began last Saturday had its amusing features. Marooned as were practically all the members of the colony in their comfortable villas, bridge took the place of golf, lawn tennis and sea bathing, and the dinners of Saturday night were conducted with difficulty, as at the time when most guests were seated the electric current was suddenly cut off and entire houses were in darkness. Then there were skirmishes for lamps and candles. In one house there were only six candles for a dinner party of twenty-six.

The Meadow Brook Club was better supplied than the houses, and when the electric current failed candles, of which there were plenty in the club, were hurriedly substituted and the effect in the hall room was picturesque.

There was glorious sunshine for the final day of the struggle at the National for supremacy between the American and British golf teams. It is interesting to note that the first incorporated golf club in the United States was the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club, and beyond a doubt father of that sport in this country was Samuel L. Fawcett, whose interests in life include, in addition to such a sport, his devotion to the fine arts and languages. The club was started in 1891 and although the game about that time had been played in Yonkers on properly constructed links had been laid out. The National Golf Club, a monument of the ingenuity of Charles Blair Macdonald, is of recent construction.

The scene there last Tuesday was one long to be remembered. The gallery of unusual numbers that followed the contestants about the course showed to greater advantage on the green where there was a spirited and colorful mass of men and women, whose costumes displayed nearly every color under the sun. There were in the gathering several thousand persons. There was an interesting ceremonial in the clubhouse after the match had been declared won by the American team, and Mrs. J. Fred Byers presented the cups.

Dance at Golf Club.

The dance given last Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Byers at the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club for the visiting golf teams was one of the notable events of the season and it was fortunate for all that the club was in the zone in which the electric lights had not suffered. Illuminations were placed about the verandas, thus giving a decided cheer to the approaching guests.

To-morrow night's big outdoor theater party for the performance of Balleff's "Chauve-Souris" in the garden of the Parish Art Museum will form a fitting climax to the so-called "season." While the floating population will depart immediately after Labor Day, Southampton will offer to those who have villas an inducement to remain and enjoy what they call the real Southampton, with its freedom from the responsibility of looking after friends, save at the end of the week and with the weather that is sure to come there will be the full enjoyment of the late summer and early autumn days.

There is a store a right royal welcome for Mr. Balleff and the members of his Russian company, who will arrive here to-morrow under the watchful eye of Morris Gest. Miss Clara Lee, with the assistance of her sister, Miss Helen Lee, and Miss Cornelia Livingston, has mustered automobiles to meet the company at the Southampton Railroad station and to take them to the place by young men and women of the colony who are competent enough to be entrusted with artists so valuable to the community at large.

Setting to Be Unique.

There has been constructed in the museum garden a well appointed stage which will have all the appurtenances necessary to the performance, while the general setting with its Old World air will be unique. The financial outlook is way ahead of expectations; all of the thirty boxes at $100 each having been disposed of, the rest of the seating capacity having been sold in advance. The beneficiary will be the Rogers Memorial Library. The program prepared has some of the most interesting features of the two seasons presented in the New York performances and will include such favorite numbers as "The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," "Kalinka" and "The Swan." The souvenir programs, which have been printed from the original color plates that cost Mr. Gest a small fortune to prepare for his own use, will be sold by a corps of young women headed by Mrs. Goodhue Livingston, Jr., whose assistants will be Misses Clara and Helen Lee, Cornelia Livingston, Jean and Charlotte Potter, Betty Hamill, Caroline and Kate Prentice, Priscilla Allen, sister of Mrs. Livingston, who will be among the debutantes of the winter. Mrs. Mackay, Florence Earle Johnson and Josephine Dodge.

Those who have secured boxes are Misses Thomas H. Barber, Peter B. Wyckoff, Goodhue Livingston, Henry R. Rea, Rufus L. Patterson, John E. Berwind, Frederick A. Snow, Robert M. Thompson, George T. Maxwell, Joseph E. Lawrence, Percy H. Stewart, James W. Stanford, Henry F. du Pont, Herman Dierks, William W. Wilcock, George Leary, Eugene Gifford Grace, Edward F. Minton, Duncan Elliot, William Walsh, Arthur B. Claffin, Charles T. Barney, Robert Waller, John H. Prentice, Charles E. Mitchell, Alvin W. Kreech and Riley Miles Gilbert; also Mr. Samuel L. Parrish and Clarence H. Blackay. Purchasers of seats, none of which will be reserved, include leading members of the permanent and summer colonies of Southampton as well as of the other Hamptons. Should there be inclement weather arrangements have been made to give the performance indoors.

Mr. Robert Thompson, Pell, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. P. Pell, who will marry Miss Alice Harding next Thursday in St. John's Church, Beverly Farms, Mass., will give his bachelor dinner to-morrow night on board the Everglades, the houseboat belonging to his grandfather, Col. Robert M. Thompson, whose name, sake he is. The boat is anchored in Sag Harbor. The wedding ceremony will take place at noon and the reception and breakfast to follow will be held at the summer home in Prides Crossing of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Prince, Jr. Miss Harding is the youngest daughter of William P. G. Harding, governor of the Federal Reserve Board. Miss Margaret Harding will be her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids will include Miss Alice Mellon, daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury, Andrew W. Mellon; Miss Beatrice Pitney, daughter of Justice and Mrs. Mahlon Pitney of Washington; Miss Evelyn Wadsworth, daughter of Senator and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth; Miss Olivia Johnson, daughter of Mr. Owen Johnson and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Underwood Johnson; Miss Nina Van Benschoten Dearth, daughter of Mrs. Henry Golden Dearth, who has been living in Paris for two years. Mr. Asa Barnes Davis, Jr., roommate of Mr. Pell at Harvard, will be his best man. The ushers will be Messrs. Albert Francke, Jr.; John H. G. Pell, brother of the bridegroom; his cousins, Walden Pell 2d and Samuel C. Hopkins, Jr., and Alexander Mackay-Smith, all of New York; Frederick H. Prince, Jr., of Boston; George M. Grinnell and Charles Van B. Cushman of Washington. Mr. Pell has been identified with this colony since boyhood. Many Southampton friends of his family will go on for the wedding.

There will be another entertainment in the garden of the Parish Art Museum, but of quite a different character, on September 8, 9 and 10, with the performance of Hindu plays in English. They will have an entirely different setting and will be performed in another section of the garden under the trees and without a set stage. The plays, "The Maharan of Arakan" and "Savitri," will have a cast of Hindu players. They were given early in the season at the Cloisters, George Grey Barnard's place in New York. The plays are being given under the auspices of the Union of East and West, an organization vouched for by Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Ambassador, and Lady Geddes. Southampton patrons include Mrs. Thomas M. Barber, Mrs. Goodhue Livingston, Mrs. Henry May, Mr. Samuel L. Parrish, Mrs. Robert S. Peabody, Col. Robert M. Thompson and Mrs. Peter B. Wyckoff. There will be held in Memorial Hall from September 7 to 12 inclusive in conjunction with the plays an exhibition of Hindu arts and crafts, including rare embroideries, carvings in silver, brass, wood, ivory and marble.

Smithtown Offers Many Novelties for Horse Show

Annual Exhibition With 42 Classes to Be Held on September 16.

The Smithtown Horse Show will be the first such exhibition of the autumn on Long Island. It will be a one day show, held on Saturday, September 16. The scene is in a hunting country, so far from the city that there is hardly an urban touch about it.

This is the twentieth Smithtown show, and it is to be held on a fifty acre field on Moriches road, St. James, and its classes are open only to horses owned by amateurs actually living on Long Island and to summer residents. The nine men who make up its executive committee and director are: Lawrence Smith, Butler, Edward H. Carle, Devereux Emmet, Robert Gilmore, James W. Lane, Arthur B. Lawrence, William A. Minott, Clarence H. Robbins and Lawrence Smith.

One of the exhibitors will be Mrs. J. Van L. Bloodgood of New York, who will show her hunters. There will be judged during the two sessions forty-two classes as follows: Breeding classes, 12; farm horse classes, 4 (including farm mules); combination class, 1; saddle class, 5; class of horses suitable for a gig, 1; harness ponies suitable for a runabout, 1; harness ponies suitable for a gig, 1; hunter classes, 2; children's jumping class, 1; hunter classes, 2; races for light-weight ponies, heavyweight ponies and mules under saddle, 3.

The Smithtown hunt cup for quality of green hunters owned by members of the Smithtown Hunt is perhaps the show's chief trophy. There is to be a saddle championship and a hunter's championship. Hunter and saddle classes will be the features of the show, which this year promises much more than usual, largely due to the fact that there has been added to the executive committee Edward H. Carle, an authority on horses, who has recently settled in Smithtown and become joint manager of the Smithtown Horse Show.

Among the exhibitors from Smithtown will be R. Lawrence Smith, executive chairman of the National Horse Show; Mrs. Alice McLean, Alonzo Potter, Edward H. Carle, Devereux Emmet, Robert Gilmore, Charles M. Higgins, Mrs. Attmore Robinson, James W. Lane, Lawrence Smith Butler and Arthur B. Lawrence.

The general committee has been considerably augmented, the new members including Montgomery Hare, Monson Morris, Drelnecourt Martin, Bainbridge Colby, John Cotton Smith, J. G. Hope, Earle Scott, T. H. Kite-Powell, William J. Ryan, Gray Zabriskie and C. N. Nodding.

Among the residents of Smithtown who will entertain at their homes during the show are Mrs. William A. Minott, Mrs. Stanford White, Mrs. Francis C. Huntington, Mrs. Devereux Emmet, Mrs. Spencer Meade, Mrs. Ernest G. Osborne, Mrs. Alonzo Potter, Mrs. Montgomery Hare, Mrs. Horace Andrews, Mrs. James W. Lane, Mrs. Robert Gilmore and Mrs. Charles D. Miller.

Tennis, Polo and Horse Show Attract the Summer Colonies

Hamilton Huntsmen Make a Feature of a Two-Team Event

Novelty Is Presented by Myopia Members—Masters Challenge to Be Hard Fought.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

BEVERLY, MASS., Sept. 2.
MYOPIA'S annual horse show, the twenty-sixth in the list of events by the Hamilton Hunt Club, is to be given on Labor Day. A feature is the event for teams of two hunters, with a man and a woman rider for each pair entered.

The Master's challenge cup will bring out some warm competition and the trophies promise to be closely contested. During the afternoon there is to be a polo game.

This year for the first time a dinner dance will be given at the club house. On Wednesday a coffee cabaret was given at the Corinthian Yacht Club for the benefit of the Children's Island Sanatorium.

For the benefit of the Cable Memorial Hospital in Ipswich the players from the Playhouse on the Moors at East Gloucester gave an entertainment at the Ipswich home of Mr. and Mrs. James Howe Proctor Thursday evening. Society from all of the colonies will be represented at St. John's Episcopal Church at Beverly Farms on Thursday, when Miss Alice Moore Harding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Proctor Gould Harding of Washington, becomes the bride of Robert Thompson Pell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. P. Pell of Southampton, L. I. Miss Margaret Harding, a sister of the bride, is to be the maid of honor, and Miss Alisa Mellon, daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury, and Miss Evelyn Wadsworth, daughter of Senator and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, are to be bridesmaids. The wedding there is to be a wedding breakfast at the home of Miss Harding's sister, Mrs. Frederick H. Prince, at the Dexter cottage at Prides Crossing.

The Ronald Trees of New York city, who have been at the Drexel cottage at Mingo Beach for the season, are returning to New York next week. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hale Bancroft, who have been playing on the Myopia polo team this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Warren of Barry Hall, Prides Crossing, have had Edward D. Morgan of Westbury as their guest for a North Shore stay.

One of the earliest of the New York colony to leave for the city after a season on the shore is Payne Whitney, who is closing his stay at Prides Crossing on Thursday. The Whitneys have had the Russell cottage.

Thomas Frothingham, James W. Appleton, Edith L. Deane, Frederick J. Alley, Frederick Ayer, Jr., and Nell W. Rice are on the committee in charge of the Myopia Hunt Club Labor Day program, which includes the horse show, polo match and dinner dance.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hays Hammond of the Magnolia colony are to open their home next Saturday for a musicale. It is to be for the benefit of the Playground and Recreation Association of America.

Mrs. C. B. Alexander Will Direct the Charity Ball

Already the Charity Ball. Again, as for many years, the chain of ballrooms of the Waldorf-Astoria will be the scene of this event that dates back to 1857. The date selected is Tuesday, February 6, 1923, and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, president of three years ago, will again be at the head of it. She succeeds in the presidency Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn. She will have practically the same executive associates as in preceding years. Mrs. Frank S. Witherbee is again to be treasurer; Mr. Lawrence Smith Butler, chairman of the floor committee, and Miss Florence V. Doane executive secretary.

Newport's Gayest Week Is Marked by Many Dinners

Artists' Costume Ball Is Outstanding Event, Followed by a Portrait Pageant.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 2.
MRS. CHARLES FREDERICK HOFFMAN gave a dinner Friday for her daughter, Miss Marion K. Hoffman. It was followed by a ball for $200.

This evening there were two other large entertainments. Mr. and Mrs. John Aspegren gave a dinner at Aspen Hall, their new estate in Bellevue avenue and the Cliffs. Mr. and Mrs. Williams Burden had a similar entertainment at Oakwood. Several dinners preceded the dancing. It might be termed Newport's gala week.

The annual artists' costume ball at the Art Association was preceded by a gorgeous pageant termed "The Viking."

The stage, the gift of Mrs. Frank W. Frueauff, was erected on the lawn and was 40 feet in height. At the right was a sounding board in front of which was placed an orchestra. The famous old stone mill, said to have been erected by the Norsemans many years before Columbus, was illuminated.

Among the principals taking part in "The Viking" were Miss Laura Biddis, Varriek Frissell and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Epley.

The third yearly baseball game between the summer residents and the city officials was played to-day at Freebody Park for the benefit of the Newport Hospital, the Children's Home and Mercy Home.

Among those who sold score cards were Misses Anita Strawbridge, Elizabeth Sades, Louise Cawley, Florence Loew, Evelyn Loew, Violet Wilder and Sylvia Hillhouse. Mrs. Louis Livingston umpired the bases and Marion Epley was behind the bat.

Reginald C. Vanderbilt had on Monday evening fifty-four guests for the annual horse show dinner, which took place at the riding ring at Sandy Point Farm. It rained so hard Monday that the show had to be put off until Tuesday.

Water Bicycling Becomes Popular With Westport

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

WESTPORT-ON-LAKE CHAMPLAIN, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Introduced by the Misses Stockton, daughters of Mr. Philip Stockton of Boston, who is with his family at his summer place, The Highlands, on the Lake Champlain shore near here, water bicycling has sprung into immediate favor among those remaining at Westport late into this month. The water bicycle resembles the land machine only in the superstructure, as they are provided with small pontoons on either side as well as with one in place of the forward wheel of the ordinary bicycle, the pedals being geared to a small propeller of the ordinary boat type, which serves the purpose of a rear wheel. These machines are capable of considerable speed and a race is being arranged for Labor Day.

Preceding the mask ball at the Westport Inn, for which most of the sojourners at the Inn and many of the cottagers were in costume, there was a number of enjoyable dinner parties. Mrs. James E. Pyle of New York, who is remaining late at Westport Inn, had as her guests at a summer party Mrs. Pyle and Mrs. Abraham DeRonde of Englewood, Mrs. Kenneth Wilbur of Scarsdale, Mr. Frank Bulley of Brooklyn, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Worman of New York and Mrs. Morgan Griswold of Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Curran of New Orleans entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Fulton and Mrs. Charles E. Fulton of New York.

Mr. John Labouisse was the winner of the August cup in the big golf match in which most of the best players of the Westport Inn and Hotel de la Plage were entered. Mrs. Marie Marshall won the women's August cup in the mixed doubles match.

Miss Emily Chapin and Mr. Thomas Treadwell of New York were the winners of the August cup in the mixed doubles match. Mrs. James E. Pyle won the August cup in the mixed doubles match.

Members of the Westport Inn team, which took part in the tennis match with a team from the Hotel de la Plage, were Mrs. James E. Pyle, Mrs. Thomas Treadwell, Mrs. Buchanan and William Buchanan.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Garrison of Newport have been visiting in the water, Mrs. Helen Garrettton, at Westport Inn, where she is remaining through the season.

Mr. E. E. Caverly of New York has joined Mrs. Caverly at Westport Inn to remain late into this month.

Mr. Percy H. Buchanan of New York has joined his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Buchanan, who have one of the Westport Inn cottages.

Others from New York recently arrived at the Inn include Mr. E. H. Bulley, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Drave, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Throp, Mr. Cumell Coe, Mrs. H. Nelson Coe, Mrs. Sidney Gardner, Miss Elizabeth Gardner, Miss Rosanna Hussey, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Ledy, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gough, Dr. R. S. William R. Adams, Mr. Thomas P. Carrigan, Mr. John Duffy, Mr. John Beckman and Mr. Henry McGlade.

Plans are well under way for the association's fourteen story clubhouse for self-supporting business women. All pledges for the income bonds in the new project, secured by the Committee of One Thousand, will be deposited with the board of directors of the American Woman's Association, who are: Miss Gertrude Robinson Smith, president; Mrs. Dorothy Ogle, vice-president; Miss Gertrude E. Lachlan, secretary; Miss Anne Morgan, treasurer; Miss Miriam K. Oliver, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Newcomb Carlton, Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim, Mrs. Prescott Slade, Mrs. Alexander Kohut, Miss Maude Wetmore and Mrs. Henry Wigglesworth.

The closing summer outing of the American Woman's Association, Inc., is taking place over Labor Day. A group of members is at Chester, N. Y., hiking and picnicking. Invitations have been issued to members and friends to the Open House Dance on Saturday, September 2, at the association's headquarters, 218 Madison avenue, which will mark the beginning of the autumn social activities. Sunday afternoon teas will be held weekly in the drawing rooms. Miss Helen Voorhis and Miss M. D. Coy are in charge of the season's social program.
